SPECIAL ORDERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MARCHANT). Under the Speaker's announced policy of January 4, 2005, and under a previous order of the House, the following Members will be recognized for 5 minutes each.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from New Jersey (Mr. PALLONE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

(Mr. PALLONE addressed the House. His remarks will appear hereafter in the Extensions of Remarks.)

TRIBUTE TO FLOYD PATTERSON

Mr. HINCHEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to speak out of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the gentleman from New York is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mr. HINCHEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues here in the House to join me in celebrating the life of an outstanding American, an American who was a boxer and the heavyweight champion of the world. His name was Floyd Patterson. He died recently, on May 11 at the age of 71.

He was a truly outstanding athlete and, I think even more importantly, an incredibly outstanding human being. All of us who had the opportunity to know him benefited from that knowledge and our association with him, and I am proud to be one of those people who knew him well.

Floyd Patterson was born in a rural cabin in Waco, North Carolina, one of 11 children. When he was still young, his family moved to Brooklyn, New York. As a young child there, he struggled in a tough urban environment and as a youngster got into a certain amount of trouble.

He was sent upstate to Wiltwyck School For Boys where, under the proper kind of supervision, he began to turn his life around. He did so in a very dramatic way. He became associated with a very important boxing trainer named Cus D'Amato, and at the age of 17 Floyd Patterson won a gold medal in the 1952 Helsinki Olympics, boxing as middleweight.

He was known as a "gentleman boxer." He was known as a gentleman boxer because in the ring he knocked a number of people out and a lot of people down, but he always helped them to their feet.

He had an amazing boxing career. In 1956 he became the youngest boxer to win a world heavyweight championship, and in 1960 he became the first boxer to ever regain the world heavyweight championship.

After an outstanding career in the ring, where he set an extraordinary example for other athletes, he eventually retired to a 17-acre farm that he purchased in New Paltz, New York. While in his retirement, he served as the

So the bill was passed.

The result of the vote was announced as above recorded.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

AUTHORIZING THE CLERK TO MAKE CORRECTIONS IN EN-GROSSMENT OF H.R. 5631, DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2007

Mr. YOUNG of Florida. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that in the engrossment of the bill, H.R. 5631, the Clerk be authorized to make technical corrections and conforming changes to the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Florida?

There was no objection.

REPORT ON H.R. 5647, DEPARTMENTS OF LABOR, HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES, AND EDUCATION, AND RELATED AGENCIES APPROPRIATIONS ACT, 2007

Mr. REGULA, from the Committee on Appropriations, submitted a privileged report (Rept. No. 109-515) on the bill (H.R. 5647) making appropriations for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and related agencies for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2007, and for other purposes, which was referred to the Union Calendar and ordered to be printed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Pursuant to clause 1, rule XXI, all points of order are reserved on the bill.

chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission. He counseled troubled teens through the New York State Office of Children's Services. He welcomed dozens of young men into his home and he trained numerous boxers in the boxing ring that he built in the barn on his farm.

He gave generously of himself to the young men he trained and to the communities of the Hudson River Valley in New York, including his generous support of the athletic facilities at New Paltz High School and the State University College of New York at New Paltz.

Floyd Patterson was an extraordinary, one might say almost unique, individual. He came from a very difficult set of circumstances. As a very young child he grew up in a set of very dangerous circumstances, but he managed to move himself away from all of that and to realize the extraordinary physical potential that he possessed as a human being and became the kind of champion that I just described.

He is an American worthy of honor and tribute and worthy of the recognition of this Congress. I hope that all of the Members of this Congress will join me in a resolution honoring him, his athletic career, and the contributions that he made to countless other individuals whom he helped succeed in realizing the potential of their lives.

Floyd Patterson, an extraordinary boxer, an extraordinary American, an outstanding, extraordinary human being. I am proud to celebrate his life.

IN CELEBRATION OF THE LIFE OF FLOYD PATTERSON

Mrs. JONES of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to follow Mr. HINCHEY in the RECORD because my remarks are about Floyd Patterson as well.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. MARCHANT). Without objection, the gentlewoman from Ohio is recognized for 5 minutes.

There was no objection.

Mrs. JONES of Ohio. Mr. Speaker, I want to thank my colleagues for allowing me to proceed at this time.

I rise today as well in honor of one of the greatest boxers of all times. Unfortunately, at the time of his death, we were engaged in so many different activities that we were unable to obtain a Special Order or hour Special Order to celebrate Floyd Patterson's life.

Those that know me know that I am one of the greatest boxing fans. It is always a great opportunity for me to have a chance to turn on a boxing match any chance I have the opportunity.

Most recently, in fact week before last, one of the young boxers said that he wanted to be able to do what Floyd Patterson had not been able to do, and he came into the ring and was able to win that boxing match. I think he did it in celebration of the great life of Floyd Patterson.

Floyd Patterson once said, "They said I was the fighter who got knocked down the most, but I also got up the most." I am pleased to stand here on the floor today to celebrate his life.

As you have already heard, he was born in Waco, North Carolina; raised in Brooklyn, New York; and rose from humble beginnings to become the first two-time heavyweight champion of the world.

You know that he is 1 of 11 children. I will not repeat that.

He represented the United States in the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki, Finland, bringing home the gold in the middle-weight division.

He turned pro in 1952 under the management of Cus D'Amato, and all of us know what a famous trainer Cus D'Amato was at the legendary Gracery Gym. D'Amato in the 1980s would develop another heavyweight champion by the name of Mike Tyson.

At just 21, Patterson became the youngest man to ever win the heavyweight championship with a fifth-round knockout of Archie Moore in 1956. In 1959, Patterson would suffer an embarrassing loss to Ingemar Johansson at Yankee Stadium that cost him the heavyweight title. However, Patterson would make a triumphant comeback and beat Johansson and become the first man to regain the heavyweight title.

Though he was known as a shy and quiet man, he had what critics call a "big man's punch," and in one match he knocked down his opponent 11 times. He had a unique style of holding his gloves high in front of his face and leaping in with hooks.

Floyd Patterson, as a boxer, was considered a small heavyweight; however, he competed against some of the giants of the boxing world. He went up against some of the best in boxing world, including Sonny Liston and Muhammad Ali.

He would lose his title to Sonny Liston in a first-round knockout. Following his loss to Liston, Patterson fought for 10 years, getting three more shots at the title, but never regaining it.

He fought Muhammad Ali in 1965. Despite taking a devastating beating from Ali, he lasted until the 12th round. Ali, who was angry because Patterson called him by his given name Cassius Clay, taunted and toyed with Patterson during the fight, peppering him with jabs and right hands while asking him, what is my name, what is my name?

Patterson and Ali would later reconcile when Patterson approached Ali in a restaurant and said, hello, Muhammad Ali. They would remain friends, and ironically, Patterson's last fight would be against Muhammad Ali in 1972.

Overall, Patterson finished with a record of 55 wins 8 losses and 1 draw, with 40 knockouts. He was inducted into the International Boxing Hall of Fame in 1991.

Following his retirement, he remained close to the sport, serving twice as chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, and he resigned from this post in 1998.

Patterson passed away on May 11 in his home in New Paltz, New York, at the age of 71, and as my other colleagues say, we join today in celebrating the great life of Floyd Patterson. A lot of us choose different roads to stardom and opportunity, but think of this, a man who was 1 of 11 children, who went from a man no one knew to a man who everyone in the world knew.

So I thank you for joining me today in celebrating the life of Floyd Patterson.

REPORT ON RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR CONSIDERATION OF H.R. 9, FANNIE LOU HAMER, ROSA PARKS, AND CORETTA SCOTT KING VOTING RIGHTS ACT REAUTHORIZATION AND AMENDMENTS ACT OF 2006

Mr. LINCOLN DIAZ-BALART of Florida, from the Committee on Rules, submitted a privileged report (Rept. No. 109-516) on the resolution (H. Res. 878) providing for consideration of the bill (H.R. 9) to amend the Voting Rights Act of 1965, which was referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

THREE BROTHERS OF THE BAND OF BROTHERS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Under a previous order of the House, the gentleman from Texas (Mr. POE) is recognized for 5 minutes.

Mr. POE. Mr. Speaker, they were called the Screaming Eagles of World War II. They jumped into Normandy into the wet darkness of the night before sunrise on D-Day, June 6, 1944. They held off the Germans in the dead of winter in the Battle of the Bulge in a small Belgian town called Bastogne. Even though completely surrounded, they replied to the demands of the Germans to surrender with that famous statement of their commander, "Nuts."

They are the 101st Airborne of the United States Army. They are the Band of Brothers. The 101st is still on duty, and their legacy now continues in the blistering heat of Iraq. They are once again fighting the forces of tyranny and terrorism.

Recently, at an outpost near Baghdad, American volunteers of the 101st found themselves surrounded and attacked by the enemy. One soldier, Specialist David Babineau, was killed in the skirmish. Private First Class Kristian Menchaca and Private First Class Thomas Tucker were kidnapped, captured, and later, apparently, murdered.

Twenty-three-year-old Kristian Menchaca was from my hometown of
